

November Forecast

己亥

Monthly View:

The early month of November is likely to be slow before picking up in the second half of the month. The soft earth element from 己 shows sluggishness but there are signs of change and adaptability coming ahead in the later part of the month. Notable subtle changes can only be seen during the second half of the month when the month branch 亥 combines with the year branch 卯, this partial combination bring about some gradual progress that are long overdue. Expect soft earth related natural disasters are landslide, flash floods or pollution.

The 2nd half of November is influence by Yang 壬 Water. The pig element is a traveling star which gives rise to movement or changes related issues. There will be desire to move around or expect changes to take place. In health perspective, be alert on water contamination, respiratory related illness e.g. flu, and metal inflicted injury during travel or movement. Countries located in South East and South West likely to face challenges and uncertainty respectively while countries in the East may enjoy some progress.

Flying Star Afflictions

This month's flying stars afflictions are located at the South West (Yellow 5), South East (Robbery Star 7), South (Disputes Star 3) and North East (Sickness Star 2).

South West

One of the worst sectors plagued by the notorious star Yellow 5, is likely to bring disasters and calamities. The yearly star 4 when combined with the notorious 5 is likely to trigger sudden events that are likely to affect relationship and learning capacity. Be alert to nerve related ailments if you are room in this location.

South East

Indicates losses of wealth and theft as the robbery star 7 resides in this sector this month. When combined with the yearly star 6, this combination brings financial losses or strong competition for leaders in the industry or leading brand.

North East

Brings ailments with the presence of the Sickness Star 2. The Star 2 when combined with the yearly star 1 will bring illnesses that are related limbs. It also brings bad reputation and likely to have poor support from noblemen.

South

Influenced by Star 3 which brings disagreement and sudden argument or gossips. When combined with the yearly star 2, it denotes mental stress or psychological trauma. Anyone who is weak or facing health issues should completely avoid this area.

West

Influenced by Star 1 which will bring recognition and nobleman support. When combined with the yearly star 9, it brings success with support from nobleman for future growth and development. This is particularly favorable for those who strategizing for future improvement plan.

East

Star 6 indicates authoritative figures and leadership related issues. When combined with the yearly star 5, it brings about challenges, turmoil and struggles in the political arena. Avoid this area if you are in leadership position facing conflicting issues. If possible, carry out discussion seated in a round table.

North West

Star 9 which potentially brings future wealth, celebrations or happy occasions. When combined with the yearly star 8, it shows good fortune to reap profits for the month. It is favorable to make financial decision that can bring profits impact for future growth e.g. property investment, etc.

Central

Star 8 indicating wealth and profits reaping. When combined with the yearly star 7, this indicates success in financial gains but beware of stiff competition. It is good for business investments that are already showing returns to take profits.

North

Star 4 which is beneficial for educational learning and relationship building. However, when combined with the yearly star 3, it can attribute to misunderstanding or poor outcome due to miscommunication and circulating rumors. Pay attention to nerve related ailments when occupying room in this sector.

Conclusions

Make good use of the Central and North West for your financial and West sector for establishing good social networking relationships. Metal related industries e.g. gold and silver will be affected and is likely to slow.

The second half of the month has a combination of the year and month branch which will enhance wood and fire elements. Oil and fire related industries are likely to see strength only during the second half of this month. Industries that are likely to do well are fire, water and wood related e.g. cosmetic, services, transportation, courier, education and plantation.

Disclaimer

The above forecast are solely the analysis and views of the author. Readers should exercise discretions when using the above information. The author should not be held liable for any negative setbacks or undesirable outcome.